

Murukanam Highlights

- Integrated inland fish, duck and chicken; with DUCK dominance
- Improved production practices for YAM and farmer-selected varieties

"With training and advisory services, my duck project grew sharply but I maintain my stock at 30 and doing away with the rest. The Asian population in Madang town provides a good market."

- Ruth Arek, model duck farmer

"With the use of locally developed poultry feed, we are able to save cost in chicken production and increase profitability."

- Mathew Lawun, model farmer

"African yam and cassava are still standing in the gardens during the El Nino and are providing food for households; supplementing the local Kalapua banana. This yam is best; not only as food but also as a source of income"

- Mark Arek , model farmer
